

Suffolk Sojourn

“ there is a quiet revolution going on in Suffolk ”

The Workshop at Lime Tree Farm, Badingham. From £80 to £160 a night depending on the time of year.

How many of us enjoy a wonderful day out of the Suffolk coast and before jumping in the car to drive home, think “I wish we could stay a little longer?”

Naomi Tarry of Best of Suffolk may just have a solution....“there is a quiet revolution going on in Suffolk” she explains, rather surprisingly given the sleepy reputation

Suffolk enjoys. “When I was a child, holiday cottages on the coast meant cold, draughty accommodation, but now it’s the complete opposite. We only list the very best properties on the Best of Suffolk website, ones we have either developed ourselves to the highest standard, or ones we manage for other people, right at the top of the market.”

Indeed looking at some of Best of Suffolk’s cottages on their website you’d be forgiven for thinking you’d clicked onto Ideal Homes by mistake, “Yes, you’ll find hand made kitchens, Agas, beautiful soft furnishings as well as more contemporary luxuries such as wet rooms as well of course fully functioning heating systems!” jokes Naomi.

“We have a golden rule”, Naomi continues, “my husband Alex and I are pretty discerning, and if we wouldn’t love staying in it ourselves, you won’t find it on the Best of Suffolk website, it’s as simple as that!”.

Well if interiors aren’t your thing, then location will be – some of Best of Suffolk’s houses are in stunning locations, take Oakley House for example – right on the seafront in Aldeburgh. The views from the lounge on the first floor are magical, extending along the beach in both directions.

Pebblebeach, Aldeburgh

Just up the coast, Thorpeness is another favourite for Best of Suffolk customers. “People love the sophisticated chic of Valetta” Naomi explains, “its owner refers to it as a beach hut, but really it’s an amazing wooden house, right in amongst the dunes on the beach – again with stunning views of the sea.”

So the simple answer to those wanting to indulge a little more in the magic of the Suffolk coast is visit www.bestofsuffolk.co.uk and see it’s fabulous cottages.

Views from Valetta, Thorpeness.

Best of Suffolk - Stylish Holiday Cottages 01728 638962 www.bestofsuffolk.co.uk